June meeting

The woodturning weekend at Wildlife Prairie State Park took the place of the regularly scheduled June meeting of the Central Illinois Woodturners.

Woodturning demo

Dick has been talking to Lyle Jamieson. It's all set for him to demo for us on Saturday, August 3. At the July meeting, Dick should be able to tell us more about the demonstration.

July meeting

The next meeting of the Central Illinois Woodturners will be held at the Woodworker's Shop in Bloomington on Monday, July 8 at 7:00pm. Don't forget to bring your chair.

July Program

Keith Adams volunteered to demonstrate end grain turning at the July meeting.

Woodturning weekend

On Saturday, June 8, six lathes, courtesy of Woodcraft, were set up in the pavillion at Wildlife Prairie State Park. It was a very pleasant day for the six turners who were there and, although it seemed to be a slow day at the park, we did meet some people who were interested in what we were doing and expressed an interest in our club.

Five turners demonstrated again on Sunday, which also proved to be a slow day.

The following members turned on Saturday: Dick Coers, Bill Smith, Lee Gatzemeyer and Dave Carroll. On Sunday: Dick Coers, Lee Gatzemeyer and Toby Cunningham. Thanks to all club members who participated in this event.

Central Illinois Woodturners also want to thank Roger Buss and Woodcraft for all their work and for the use of their lathes. Roger also demonstrated both days.

Also turning with us was Steve Shaw. Although he is not a club member, Steve spent both Saturday and Sunday with us. The Central Illinois Woodturners thank you for your help and support.
