June Meeting

The June meeting of the Central Illinois Woodturners was held at the Woodcraft store in Peoria on June 14. Terry Quiram did an excellent job of leading the meeting in Bob Adam's absence. Sixteen members attended the meeting.

Show-N-Tell

Tom Colligan---mallet turned from ipe and honey locust. Dick Coers---samples of inlays made with his laser engraver, sample of Dakota burl and pens turned from it and a pin chuck. Ron Bell---natural edge nested bowls from maple burl and a large natural edge bowl from box elder. Dave Bloom---salad bowl set from walnut. Paul Cobb---Pueblo style segmented bowls.

Treasurer's report

Paul Cobb reported the club has $660 in the treasury.

July Meeting

The July meeting will be Monday, July 12 at 7:00pm at the Woodworkers Shop in Bloomington. Don't forget to bring your chair.

July program

Dave Bloom will cover tool sharpening at our July meeting and Dick Coers will talk about work piece holding and chucking. If you are having trouble sharpening a tool, bring it with you. There will also be time to discuss any workholding questions you have.

June program

The June program was about turning, from preparing the blank to finishing the piece. Terry Quiram led the discussion. There was a lot of discussion regarding the treatment of the wood to keep it from cracking after being roughed out. Thanks for sharing your experiences with us Terry.

Freedom Pens

Woodcraft will hold another pen turning day at the store on November 11. Blanks and pen kits will be supplied by Freedom Pens.

Roger Buss reported 352 pens were given to the National Guard. As a result, the Woodcraft store was presented with a Medal of Excellence from the 733rd Quartermaster Battalions.

New videos

Dave Bloom purchased five new videos for the club library. There are three symposium videos, one on bowl turning and one on segmented turning.
